

HIKANATION YEAR BOOK

HIKANATION SONG

We have chased the desert sunsets, laught the freedom and the peace,
that this land holds in abundance till its found,
We have walked through rough terrains, though our bodies ached with pain and slept in simple shelters on the ground.

We have seen the mighty canyons copper hued
and summer gold,
Cooled ourselves in pools of water emerald green.
We have walked the great divide,
Mountains peaked on every side,
and endured the winters wet and cold.

From the efforts of endurance,
we have learned to strengthen minds
For the tasks and trials of living day to day,
In the wilderness we learned what to endure's returned.
And the soul's rewards are quietly stored away.

(chorus)

We've been hiking across America
We've been walking to promote good hiking trails
We want to show our respect for natural wonders and ensure the outdoors way of life prevails.

We are hiking for Hikanation
We are hiking for Hikanation.
